PETTY IS CHOICE FOR COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

POLICE HEAD HAS LEAD OF 4,000 VOTES

Lester T. Tiffany Wins County's Greatest Sheriff Race

DOOLITTLE IS SECOND

Lester T. Tiffany, former chief deputy under Edwin Ahlstrom and at present chief of police at Lake Forest, won the republican nomination for Lake county sheriff in the primary Tuesday. From unofficial returns available today Tiffany has more than 4,000 lead over H. A. Doolittle, who ran second.

Early returns indicated that Edward A. Brown of Round Lake would run ahead of Doolittle, however, precincts heard from later dropped Brown to third place.

Voliva Falls

Elmer Green, former sheriff and former warden at Joliet, ran fourth. Green felt secure from the fact that he had the support of Wilbur Glenn Voliva and the Zion vote of approximately 1800, but that advantage was more than offset in the strongholds of Tiffany, Doolittle and Brown, and the best Voliva could do for Green was to land his candidate fourth in the scramble.

Edward Ahlstrom, also a former sheriff, was last in the race with a total vote of less than 5,000.

Bitter Campaign

From many angles the campaign was one of the most remarkable primary battles ever staged in Lake county. Liberal use of newspaper advertising space during the last days of the contest carried the arguments of the candidates in their appeals for preferment at the polls. In many cases the campaign literature hinted of bitterness toward opposing candidates, and also suggestions as to some of the candidates carrying "an ace in the hole", but it must be said to the credit of the candidates that the contest went to the close without the threatened scandal breaking to the public.

Yager Democratic Choice

In the November election, Tiffany will be opposed by the democratic candidate, Herbert E. Yager, who did not have any opposition in the primary. This is the first time in several years that the democrats have made any political gestures, and the small vote polled Tuesday is good indication that they will not do much in the November poll.

Local Department Is Called to Paschens'

The local fire department was called to Paschendale Farm No. 2, 14 miles north of Antioch, to extinguish a fire of unknown origin, Saturday noon. Before they could reach the scene of the conflagration, however, a garage, chicken house, and lumber pile had been totally destroyed. The damage, estimated to be about $2,000, is partially covered by insurance, it is reported.

OVER 500 PEOPLE ATTEND OPENING OF CHURCH HALL

Over 500 people not only from Antioch but also from nearby cities attended the formal opening of St. Peter's new auditorium held Saturday night. Following the chicken dinner, which was served by the women of the parish, various Lake county candidates spoke. One of the features of the evening was the rendering of several musical selections by the local high school glee club.

Miss Elsie Dunford has received an invitation to spend the summer with her cousin, Mrs. John Coolidge.

Antioch News Makes Accurate Forecast of Primary Winners

An accurate forecast of winners for contested places on the Republican primary ballot was published exclusively in the Antioch News. After a careful analysis of the facts pertinent to each contest, the following statements regarding the candidates were printed in the columns of this newspaper Thursday, April 3, five days before the primary election:

SHERIFF

"Lester T. Tiffany, Lake Forest chief of police and former deputy sheriff, appears to have a slight edge over his four opponents for the sheriff nomination as the contestants near the finish line in one of the hottest Republican primary battles ever staged in Lake county."

Tiffany won over his four opponents by a plurality of over 4,000.

COUNTY JUDGE

"That Judge Perry L. Persons, candidate for re-election as county judge, will be victorious over Charles E. Jack, whom the Judge defeated eight years ago, is believed by backers of the fourist who has been on the county bench for 19 years."

Judge Persons defeated his opponent by over 6,000 votes.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

"Principal W. C. Petty of Antioch will win the Republican nomination for county superintendent of schools by a very surprising majority. Supporters of the Antioch man who are authority for the announcement today cited that the candidate has developed a voting strength from unexpected quarters, which indicates a very decisive victory at the polls next Tuesday."

Election returns show Prin. Petty to be winner by 2,477 votes. "Voting strength from unexpected quarters" is explained by the large vote Petty received in his opponent's home town, Waukegan, where friends of the victor labored hard, while Mr. Simpson considered Waukegan safe for himself and devoted his last week's campaign to other parts of the county.

REPRESENTATIVES

"That the wheels of political fortune are swinging for Lee McDonough, Waukegan, Richard J. Lyons, Mundelein, and William M. Carroll, Woodstock, is the belief of prognosticators who have analyzed the legislative derby in the eighth senatorial district—Lake, McHenry and Boone counties. Lyons and McDonough are two of the three outgoing members. Due to the excellent record of both men it is believed they will have little difficulty in retaining their seats in the general assembly. While Carroll has opposition in McHenry county, it is believed the Woodstock attorney will muster a winning vote in his home county. With a nine-way split in the district vote Carroll will have a distinct advantage in the race."

Lyons, McDonough and Carroll were victorious over a field of nine Republican candidates.

Lyons, Carroll and McDonough Are Winners in Assembly Race

Lyons Leads Field by 13,000—Jackson, Boone Candidate, Loses

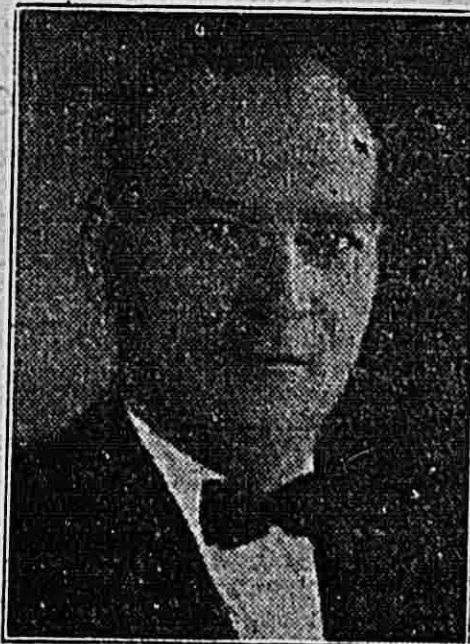

True to the forecast by the Antioch News last week, Richard J. Lyons, Mundelein, William M. Carroll, Woodstock, and Lee McDonough, Waukegan, were winners for the republican nomination for the general assembly in the eighth senatorial district. Representative N. L. Jackson, Belvidere, was defeated, running behind McDonough about 1500 votes.

Lyons led the field, receiving 37,251 votes, according to unofficial returns, leading Carroll, second in the race, by 13,000 votes.

Totals for Representative

Lyons	37,251
Carroll	23,800
McDonough	23,351

Next Sheriff

Lester T. Tiffany

Successful candidate for republican nomination for sheriff, whose sponsors challenged the opposition to find a flaw in the Lake Forest police chief's public record or private life, Tiffany piled up an overwhelming vote along the north shore.

RUTH MCCORMICK WINS OVER DENEEN BY 200,000 VOTES

Backers Turn Attention To Republican Con- vention

VICTORY MEANS REVENGE

Culminating a furious campaign that was marked principally by the world court issue, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick won a decisive victory over her opponent, Senator Deneen, with a plurality of more than 220,000 votes in the Republican senatorial primary Tuesday. That she carried not only her own county, but also downstate is shown by the fact that her plurality in the latter, with 591 of the 3,553 precincts missing, was 39,399.

Giving Mrs. McCormick the lead in every precinct reported late yesterday, Lake county gave her 503,241 votes and Senator Deneen 174,177. Out of 69 precincts in the county, 67 precincts gave Mrs. McCormick 16,203 against 6,860 for Senator Deneen, a comfortable margin for Mrs. McCormick of 9,343.

Victory Means Revenge

Since six years ago Deneen defeated her husband, the late Senator Medill McCormick, by less than one vote in each of the state's then 6,000 precincts, the victory was more than just a political triumph for Mrs. McCormick. It meant to her political revenge. Winning the nomination by perhaps 240,000 votes, the congresswoman's revenge was multiplied 40-fold. Hitherto the Senator had been undefeated in 38 years of public service.

Turn Attention to Convention

Now that the primary is over, Mrs. McCormick's supporters have turned their attention toward the state conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties, which will be held in Springfield, April 18. On this occasion Mrs. McCormick will be presented formally to the Republican party. Also the platform upon which she will run in November, will be presented for adoption.

It is believed that opposition to making America a member of the permanent court of international justice, of the league of nations will be the dominant note.

At the forthcoming contest in November Mrs. McCormick will be opposed by Col. James Hamilton Lewis, the Democratic nominee.

After two days of work, Oliver Hughes resigned his position as census taker and his successor Lloyd Murrie, who also took the examination, thereby qualifying himself as an enumerator.

Thanks Friends!

County Judge Perry L. Persons Judge Persons declares it is especially gratifying to him that he won the Republican nomination for re-election without the aid of an organization and without taking the trouble to make personal campaign. He feels that Lake county voters have endorsed his record by casting their ballots for him Tuesday. "I am deeply grateful to the public for their splendid expression of confidence in me," he told a News representative this morning.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Among the coming events to claim the attention of local voters are three school elections on the program for Saturday, April 12.

With polling places at Lake Villa as well as at Antioch, an election for choosing a trustee for Township 46, Range 10 East is to be held during the hours 1 to 5 p. m., Saturday afternoon. Harold Minto is candidate for re-election. Serving with Mr. Minto on the three-member board are Henry Grimm and Richard Kaye. Members are elected to serve three years, the election of one occurring each year. The balloting will be at the Antioch High school in Antioch and at the grade school in Lake Villa.

Grade School Election

S. E. Pollock for re-election as president for one year and Mrs. Ethel Pesat, for re-election, and Maybelle A. Crandall to succeed R. L. Murrie, are the candidates for board members to be voted for at the grade school election for District 34 at the Antioch school Saturday afternoon from 12 to 7 p. m.

High School Election

Meanwhile a third election will be in progress at the Antioch High school where two board members are to be elected. The candidates are Lester Osmond to succeed A. N. Tiffany, and George White, candidate for re-election. The hours are from 12 noon until 7 p. m.

DEFEATS SIMPSON IN EXCITING RACE BY 2,400 VOTES

Clean Campaign Proves Aid to Antioch School Man

VOTERS' VERDICT RAPS ZION

Principal William C. Petty of Antioch was victor over T. Arthur Simpson for the Republican nomination for county superintendent of schools by approximately 2500 votes, according to unofficial returns in Tuesday's primary election. Victory for the local man was the occasion for much jubilation on the part of those who had worked for the candidate for many weeks.

Factors in Race

With a handicap of about 300 votes to overcome, according to the figures in the race eight years ago when Miss Alice Smith came near defeating the veteran office-holder, Simpson, Mr. Petty actively began his campaign six weeks ago. His first step was to renounce Wilbur Glenn Voliva's flat earth theory, declaring he had no intention of seeking the aid of the Zionist leader who is reckoned as a great help to those seeking elective office. The candidate's announcement proved to be a strong bid for the vote of the anti-Voliva element in the northeastern part of the county. Organizing their own votes into what proved to be strong support for Petty, Zion independents worked not only in their own township, but they were influential in swinging support to the candidate from other parts of the county. With the task of figuratively thumbing his nose at the Zion leader off his program, Petty and his advisors turned their attention to the populous lake shore cities where election returns show they rallied sufficient strength to bring victory for the man who was overwhelming the choice of the rural districts.

Made Dignified Campaign Making one of the cleanest and most dignified and fair campaigns for office ever witnessed by Lake county voters, Prin. Petty today is acclaimed one of the best campaigners who ever worked in Lake county. Wherever he went, wherever he spoke to voters he gained support, and according to his sponsors, had the campaign lasted another two weeks his vote would have been far greater than it was last Tuesday. On account of his clean and aggressive campaign, Mr. Petty would have been great even in defeat, but of course victory is much better.

LAKE COUNTY VOTERS RAP VOLIVA POWER

Is Wilbur Glenn Voliva slipping? Is the overlord of Zion losing his influence in the realm of Lake county politics? Maybe not, but the fact remains that the aid of Zion is not at all a requisite for success at the polls in Lake county.

Here's the proof: T. A. Simpson, basking in the favor of Voliva, lost his contest for nomination for county superintendent of schools to W. C. Petty by over 2,400 votes.

Again—Elmer Green, bearing the Zion stamp of approval for sheriff, lost to Lester Tiffany by 4,000.

Is it not possible that Voliva will soon cease to hold what politicians are pleased to term "the balance of power" in Lake county?

The largest crowd so far this season packed the Palace, last Friday night when the show was sponsored by the Lake County Federation of Labor. Seven good bouts were staged and many candidates for political office were present.

SMALL TOWNS VS. CITIES

Professor Walter B. Pitkin, of Columbia university, predicts that the big city has arrived at its full size and that the America of the future will be a nation of small towns and villages. He also says that we have long known and recognized that the small towns have sunshine, quiet, and freedom from smoke. Out of every thousand inhabitants of the big towns you cannot find more than three or four who are better off in their jobs than the people who meet on Main street in Antioch. The glamour of the city soon washes off and it is the more emphasized when the time comes, as at present, with employment a significant factor.

The spread of industry to the smaller community is noted by Professor Pitkin. "No man in his senses thinks of starting a factory in a metropolis nowadays unless he is making something which cannot be made elsewhere. Leisure time is better cared for in the smaller place. You can pick and choose in the village or small city, while in the larger city one must take half the day to get anywhere to have the same opportunity presented by the village", the professor said in a recent lecture he delivered.

We have been denuding the countryside for the city. Men who are single, girls with hopes of careers, and heads of families, tempted by the flame burning brightly in a big city, have entered the flame only to be scorched and now with wings singed, seek comfort, better life, and more beautiful surroundings in a semi-rural community. The labor market, over supplied, has sent the minds of thousands on a backward trek to the old rural scenery.

In a measure we have been dividing the United States into two great opposing forces, each with a different trend of thought, and a different approach to all public questions which are seemingly impossible to harmonize the dwellers in the city and the residents of the country districts, villages, towns, and smaller cities. This line of demarcation is serious and it has grown with the years.

The final solution to this problem is the end of the power of the great city and a return to the rural districts and centers.

THE HORSE LAUGH

There is a strange tendency in the human breast to make fun of things new, to ridicule innovations and wish them bad luck. The admiral opposing steam-propelled warships and arguing for the true and tried old sails of the heroic fathers has a counterpart in perhaps a majority of men.

Who of us has not poked fun at a new machine, a new style, or a new custom—just because it was new? Even those who offer new things themselves along one line are apt to "pooh-pooh" a new-fangled contraption coming from another source. It is strange, but it is true. No great invention or forward movement of all those which advanced our country from little scattered colonies to what it is today failed to have its detractors and prophets of evil.

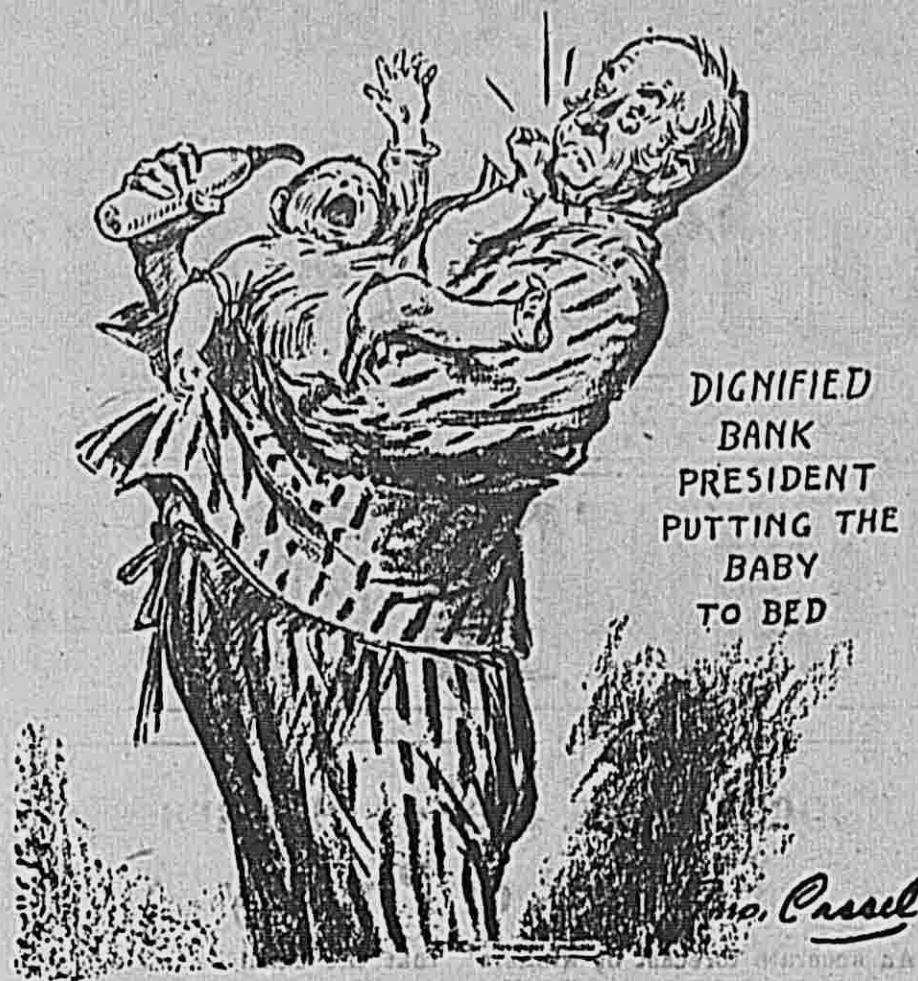

People laughed at the idea of flying above the earth, or talking over a simple wire, or more simple through the air. And when one has laughed at a thing he rather dislikes seeing it succeed, thus turning the laugh on him. It seems safer now not to laugh at such proposals as talking with Mars or shooting a man to the moon.

But the scorn and doubter of the new has his useful function in our social life. In the first place some of the attempts of the ingenious should be laughed at and discouraged. Efforts to extract sunbeams from cucumbers should be properly ridiculed. The wise fellow who is trying to turn dirt to gold or produce perpetual motion should naturally expect to face the regular guy's smile. The man whose lip curls at a new contraption is a conservative. He is the man who preserves the past. He is needed to balance and offset the man who would abolish and destroy everything that has acquired a flavor of antiquity. He is the man who clung to knee breeches after others had begun to wear them down to their ankles. He is also the man who clung to the laws, centuries old, and to the principles of the ancient Magna Carta. He is the man who today clings to our old standards of morality and works against having them lowered.

While the conservative laughs at the new things the innovator laughs at the old. Between the laughing on the two sides, we advance along, keeping the best of the old and the new—that part which has withstood ridicule. With some pushing forward too recklessly and others holding back too determinedly, we have advanced at a pretty good speed without losing our balance, and became educated as we went along. We do not ridicule new inventions as much as we used to. Too many of them have been a success. We are ahead of those Chinese in Peking who opposed electric street cars because they would throw the jinriksha pullers out of employment. A few years ago some very advanced and determined reformers would have mutilated our language by throwing out all the unpronounced letters, but they were fortunately checked by the conservatives. Some things, if they should be done at all, should be done gradually.

Every man has the spirit of conservatism as well as the spirit of adventure in him—it is just human nature. And every man also has many interior battles that usually produce good. When any new thing is developed, it is usually pulled both backward and forward, and if it can stand the strain it thus proves its worth.

Sights We Hope to See

and much enjoyed. The hostess committee, Mrs. E. Martin and Mrs. Jamison, of Millburn, and Mrs. Tweed and Mrs. Nelson, of Lake Villa, served refreshments.

Last week Thursday morning as Mr. Dunakin, who with Mr. Dobbin, takes his children and the Dobbin children to and from Gurnee school, was backing out from the driveway at the Dobbin home, he was rammed by a milk truck which was going at a good rate of speed. Both truck and car were badly damaged and the children, who were in the rear of the car, which was smashed, were badly shaken up, but no serious injuries were suffered and the children were able to go to school the next day.

Mrs. James Kerr entertained eleven women at her home last Thursday at a Vanishing luncheon. Her daughters, Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. Ray Kerr, also a niece, Mrs. James Simon, were out from Chicago for the occasion.

Mrs. Anna Belek, who has been with Mrs. Fred Hamlin, and the F. Nader family the last five months, returned to her home with her sister at Fox River Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamlin spent Sunday there.

Mrs. Hendricks of Ingleside with her son, Meredith, of Chicago, spent Sunday with Mrs. S. M. Sherwood.

The Ladies' Aid society met last Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. H. L. Miller, at which time the regular business meeting was held. Mrs. Seeger, who has been president, resigned, and Mrs. Hooper was elected to fill out the remainder of the year. The women are busy preparing for the summer bazaar, and are planning on a minstrel show to be given after Easter by the Ivanhoe women. The Vanishing tea luncheons are also well on the way and seem to be quite satisfactory. Mrs. Seeger from Gurnee attended the meeting and the next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Hamlin on Wednesday afternoon, April 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Brabec of Oak Park spent Monday with their niece, Mrs. Fred Hamlin.

Captain and Mrs. E. L. Bradley returned last Thursday evening from a month spent in California. He was accorded a warm reception at the depot when he arrived home. The Allendale band and several friends were there to welcome them home.

Every evening this week and next week except Saturday evening, a meeting will be held at the church,

The recent ludicrous misses by the government weather forecasters prompt the opinion one might just as well listen to—well, most anyone. A little better scheme yet is to "roll your own". Look at the thermometer when you first get up; take a peek at the clouds to determine the source of the wind; and then put on the itchy heavy ones or the diaphanous B. V. D's, as the case may be.

The census enumerators started out last week. Yes, many a maiden woman blushed when asked her age, but let not her heart be troubled, the enumerators hear so many figures they can't remember them and if they could they are under oath not to tell.

How's your credit been since E. L. has been off the job? Sometimes your rep doesn't count you know. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and Edsell Ford had lunch together at the Roosevelt the other day. Afterwards, discovering he was out of cash, Vanderbilt presented an American Express cheque to the cashier at the window. It was obvious that her suspicions were aroused—it's an old trick saying you're Cornelius Vanderbilt. Her evident doubt made Vanderbilt uneasy and thinking to convince her of his identity, he remarked, "I have just had lunch here with Edsell Ford". This was too thick. Bang went the money drawer which the cashier had tentatively opened. She said he'd have to see the credit manager.

Robins and geese aren't the only migrants coming north. One sure sign of the near approach of summer weather is the fact that "tin-can" tourists are making their way into this section of the country in a motley array. Early in the morning cars from Wisconsin, Ohio, Michigan, Florida, California, Tennessee, and where not may be seen going through Antioch enroute to somewhere.

This is about the way the 18th amendment appears to be interpreted by many today. A couple of early justices of the Supreme Court agreed to go without wine at dinner until it rained. There ensued a long spell of dry weather during which the suffering justices felt the lack of the drop that cheers. Finally they could stand the strain no longer and it was gravely agreed upon that the jurisdiction of the court extended so far that somewhere within it it must be raining. So they took a drink.

Typifying the opinion expressed by more than one subscriber of the Antioch News, Steve Kret, a former resident of Antioch and now of Cudahy, writes: "I find that I cannot get along without your paper, though we moved from Antioch 8 years ago. I find that there are many interesting things in it. Although we get many other papers and magazines we always look forward to each copy of the Antioch News. This is the reason I am sending you $2 for another year."

The old town "whistle" is vociferating. A familiar, but regal figure is standing on Main street. With a contented countenance he appears to be dismissing all within his dominion. His Honor is none other than Marshal Simonsen.

The Woman's club elected officers at their regular meeting last week Tuesday, and the following will serve as officers: President, Mrs. Florence Pinch; vice-president, Mrs. Ina Nixon; recording secretary, Mrs. Harriet Balenger; treasurer, Mrs. Georgia Avery; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Gladys Duncan. Two representatives of the Public Service company were present and gave an illustrated lecture on "Know Illinois", which was instructive as well as entertaining.

ALL SPRING—heat with WAUKEGAN KOPPERS COKE

provides even temperature and comfort in your home

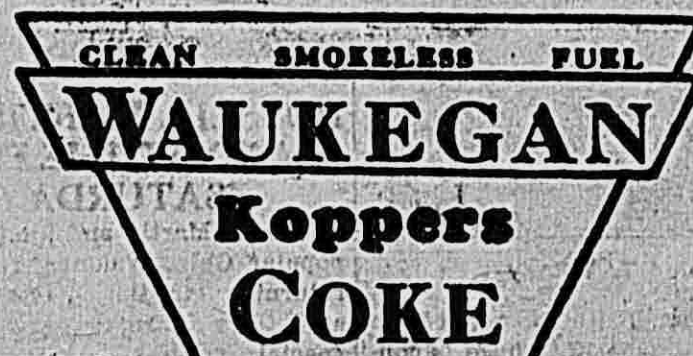

Sudden fluctuations of temperature mark spring as the most trying season of the year for maintaining even, comfortable temperatures in your home. Some days are chilly, and if rain is falling a raw, damp coolness may penetrate your home. The next day the temperature may rise, but, even on a comparatively warm spring day, some heat is needed if you and your family are to be truly comfortable. Comfort is an elusive thing because of these variations in temperature—unless you burn a fuel that is ideally suited to provide the exact amount of heat you wish.

WAUKEGAN KOPPERS COKE brings you the solution of this spring heating problem. Heat in the quantity you want is obtained easily—merely by regulating the drafts on your heating plant. WAUKEGAN KOPPERS COKE responds immediately to regulation. The fire in your heating plant will spring to life in a moment when you need more heat—or when you check it for less heat, you have assurance that the fire will hold.

WAUKEGAN KOPPERS COKE also is clean. Dust, soot, smoke do not sift up to soil walls, furnishings and drapes in your home. Absolute cleanliness always—with WAUKEGAN KOPPERS COKE.

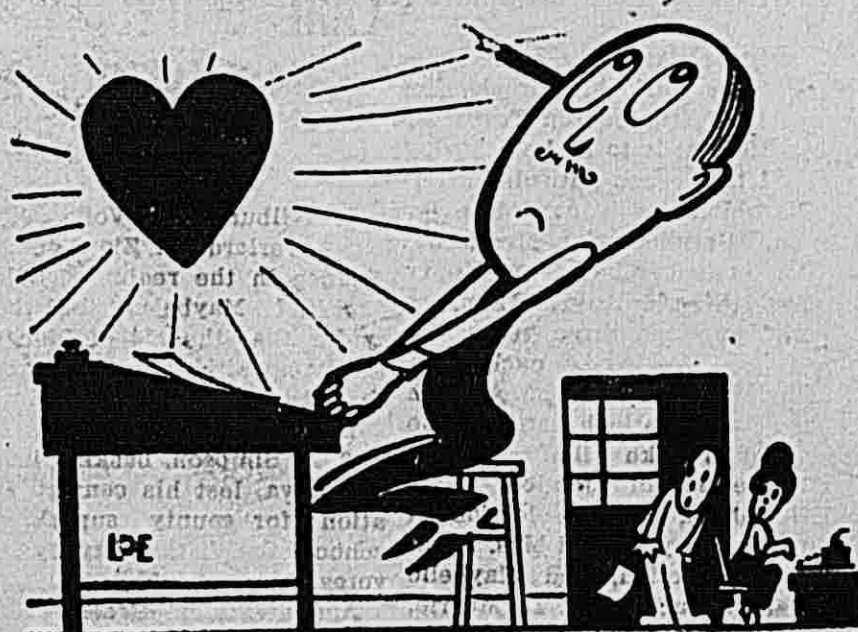

There is a size WAUKEGAN KOPPERS COKE for every heating plant. Call your dealer today and have him send you enough to assure you supreme comfort during the spring.

Household
HintsMore Canned Goods
Sold Last Year Than Ever Before

Although canned foods are now universally accepted both by scientists and the public as healthful, nutritious and clean, and more of them were sold last year than in any previous year since the canning industry began, the keynote of the National Canners' Convention in Chicago this year was an earnest effort to make all canned foods more nutritious and palatable than ever before.

To this end more than half of the nearly four score formal addresses which were delivered during the five days of the Convention were made by scientific men who are spending their lives studying this subject. There were men from great universities, from the elaborate research laboratories maintained by the Association and leading can manufacturing companies, from the United States Department of Agriculture from the American Medical Association, from the Michigan Department of Agriculture, from the Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station, and from the Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service.

A Huge Attendance

Old timers said that it was the best attended and most interesting Convention that this Association has ever held. A new departure from the programs of previous years was a series of informal conferences between canners and scientists to discuss raw products and technological problems. These proved a huge success. The room assigned was not big enough to hold the crowd that wanted to attend the first one, and the others were held in more spacious quarters. The object of these meetings was to make the immense amount of research work that is being done of direct and immediate value to the industry.

Another move toward the same end from the large research laboratories of a big can manufacturing company right in the hotel where the Convention was given, and manning it with members of the laboratory staff. Many canners went out to the suburbs of Chicago to visit this laboratory last year; so much time was saved this year by bringing the laboratory in to them.

Many Prominent Scientists

That the industry as a whole is determined to improve its product, if possible, is proved by the caliber of the men whom they have called upon to help. Among the men from great universities who delivered one or more addresses at the different meetings during the course of the Convention were: Dr. Walter H. Eddy of Columbia University, New York City; H. K. Hayes of the University of Minnesota, St. Paul; F. C. Gaylord of Purdue University and J. H. McGillivray of the Purdue Experiment Station, Lafayette, Ind.; J. C. Walker of the University of Wisconsin, Madison; and A. T. Irwin of the State College of Agriculture, Ames, Iowa.

Other prominent physicians and scientists who addressed the Convention were: Dr. Morris Fishbein of the American Medical Association; Dr. Karl Meyer of the Hooper Foundation, Director of the California Board of Health; W. C. Geagley, State Analyst of the Michigan Department of Agriculture; O. M. Watson of the Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service, and the following men from the U. S. Department of Agriculture: Paul B. Dunbar, Assistant Chief of the Food, Drug and Insecticide Administration; W. J. Zannmeyer of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Washington, D. C.; H. C. Diehl of the Wenatchee, Wash., Office, and L. L. Harter and D. N. Shoemaker of Washington, D. C.

Many scientists who devote all their time to food research also discussed their latest findings before the Convention. These included the following from the National Canners Association laboratories in Washington, D. C., and San Francisco, Calif.: Dr. W. D. Bigelow, Director in Charge; Charles G. Woodbury, Director of Raw Products Research; Dr. E. F. Kohman; H. R. Smith; E. J. Cameron; C. A. Greenleaf, and John Yessier of Washington, D. C., and J. R. Esay, Director, and G. S. Bohart of the Western Branch Laboratory at San Francisco, Calif.

Research men from the American Can Company's large laboratory at Maywood, Ill., who presented papers and led discussions were W. E. Vaughan, C. O. Ball and D. F. Sampson, and those from the Continental Can Company's Research Department in Chicago were William H. Harrison, Manager, and A. E. Stevenson.

Education for All

Another earnest of the canning industry's firm intention to provide the American housewife with the best foods possible is the maintenance by several leading agricultural colleges of special schools for canners. The purpose of these is to acquaint field men and agricultural specialists employed by canners with the recent findings in agricultural research which may be applied with profit in the improvement of production.

As one prominent canner put it, "the industry is in splendid condition, and we want to keep faith with the American house who is the goose who lays our golden eggs. But she is far from being a goose in her judgment, and there would be no more golden eggs for us if we did not keep on improving our product year after year."

AUCTION

Seventy-five head of Holstein and Guernsey dairy cows, close-up springers, will be sold at auction Saturday at 11 a. m., at Trevor, Wisconsin, by the Wisconsin Horse & Dairy Cattle Sales company. A few bred heifers and bulls will also be sold. These cattle are young.

An Old Breakfast Dish Appears On The Dinner Table

Breakfast and grapefruit have long been close partners—even before the handy canned variety brought squirrel-less comfort and several additional minutes of sleep to the busy cook. For a long time it remained a breakfast delicacy, but now, since its anti-acid qualities have been recognized by health experts, its ripe flavor has been brought into menus for lunch and dinner.

The recipe-makers, true to form, have come forward with new and varied recipes for the golden fruit—grapefruit shortcake, jelly, salad, and salad dressing. With the emergency shelf stocked with several cans of the fruit it will always be fresh and ready to serve in any of the ways suggested here.

Grapefruit Jelly with Cream Cheese Balls

2 tablespoons gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 No. 2 can grapefruit
½ cup sugar
Juice of 1 lemon
1 package cream cheese (3 oz.)
2 dozen canned white cherries
2 dozen filberts
Mayonnaise
Lettuce

Soak the gelatin in cold water five minutes. Cook the sugar and juice drained from the grapefruit until sugar is dissolved. Add the lemon juice and gelatin. Strain. Add grapefruit segments. Fill a cold wet ring half full with the grapefruit jelly mixture. Let stand in refrigerator until it begins to thicken.

Form the cheese into small balls about 1 inch in diameter. When the jelly in the mold has begun to set arrange these balls of cheese at regular intervals in the mold. Add the rest of the gelatin mixture and chill until perfectly stiff. When ready to use unmold on a bed of lettuce. Put the cherries and stuff with blanched nut meats. Fill the center of the grapefruit, mold with the cherries. Garnish with mayonnaise. This serves 6 to 8 people.

Grapefruit Shortcake

The Cake—
1 ½ cup fat
2-3 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1-2 cup milk
1 ½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder.
1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream the fat, add sugar and beat well. Add well beaten egg. Sift the flour and baking powder together and add alternately with the milk. Bake 30 minutes in shallow square cake pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.)

The Fruit—
1 can grapefruit
1 ½ tablespoons cornstarch
Drain grapefruit. Heat grapefruit juice. Add cornstarch which has been moistened with a little cold water or juice. Cook until slightly thickened and clear. When cold add fruit to thickened juice.

The Shortcake—

Place a square of cake on an individual serving plate. Place grapefruit sections on top and pour sauce over all. Garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Frozen Fruit Salad

1 No. 1 can grapefruit
2 cups (1 can) salad fruits
1 cup diced celery
1 cup chopped almond meats
1 cup mayonnaise
1 ½ cups heavy cream
1 cup (1-2 pkg.) sliced dates
Drain canned fruits thoroughly, cut in small pieces, combine the fruits, celery and almonds. Whip the cream and add it to the mayonnaise. Add cream and mayonnaise to the fruits.
Pack in trays of mechanical refrigerator or in a tightly sealed mold in mixture of ice and salt until frozen (about 3 to 4 hours). Unmold. Serve on lettuce leaf and garnish with cream mayonnaise. (Yields 1 ½ servings.)

Sally Ann's
Adventures

—at her home

Doll buggies, doll buggies, and doll buggies made their way down Sally Ann's street yesterday. And where do you think they all stopped? At Sally Ann's house. Sally Ann gave a doll party.

Tan, black, blue, red and all colored buggies—you should have seen all the pretty dolls and their dresses. They were all dressed up in their new spring outfits. As each little girl arrived at Sally Ann's home she parked her dolly on the davenport. When 3 o'clock came there were 13 little doll babies sitting on the davenport as nice as you please. And they didn't cry a bit.

After they all arrived Sally Ann went and got a pretty colored ball that her daddy had given her for her birthday and then she and all her little guests went out on the lawn and played catch. About 5 o'clock Sally Ann's mamma called them in to have something to eat. They all sat around a circle on the floor and ate cake and ice cream and candy until they just could not hold any more.

The next thing they did was to put their dollies' coats and hats on and

a Great Help in Your Chores

Milking the electric way is much easier than milking by hand. Also makes it possible for you to sleep an hour longer in the morning because electricity can milk from two to four cows at a time . . . If you separate the cream from your milk, let a small electric motor turn the separator. It will keep the separator running at an even speed easier and better than you can do it turning the crank. Then, too, you will get more cream.

Wilted vegetables become fresh in the Frigidaire HYDRATOR

YOU can serve fresher vegetables—more delectable salads than ever before when you have one of the new Frigidaires in your kitchen.

For every new household Frigidaire has the Hydrator, a special compartment for storing lettuce, parsley, celery, tomatoes, radishes and greens of all kinds . . . If vegetables are fresh and crisp when you put them in, the Hydrator keeps them that way until you want them. If they are dry and wilted, the Hydrator restores them to their original freshness and firmness in a few hours' time.

In addition to the Hydrator, Frigidaire offers the famous Cold Control, giving you a choice of six freezing speeds in the freezing compartment.

There is a Frigidaire for every home, large or small. And any model may be conveniently purchased the "Little by Little" way over a long period of time.

We Offer You the Great OATMEAL Poultry Feeds

WE wanted to be sure that we handled the very best poultry feeds in the world. So we investigated. We found that The Quaker Oats Company had a wonderful reputation for its feeds among experts; we learned about their great mills, their poultry experiment farm, the experts they have right on their own staff. So we sell Quaker Ful-O-Pep Poultry Feeds, "the oatmeal feeds." You'll get wonderful results if you use these feeds according to the Ful-O-Pep Methods. May we serve your needs?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 6.

The Golden Text was, "Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me"
(Proverbs 30:8).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy; at thy right hand there are pleasures forevermore" (Psalms 10: 5, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Man understands spiritual existence in proportion as his treasures of Truth and Love are enlarged" (p.
205).

except Saturday. These services will begin at 7:30 and close not later than 9 o'clock. There will be special music each evening as features of the programs, and the church will be decorated in keeping with the Easter season. On Thursday evening Holy Communion will be served.

BOTH MAN AND SON BENEFITTED BY NEW KONJOLA

"This New Medicine Did
All That Was Claimed
For It", Says Happy
Man

MR. HERMAN SCHLETTERT

"Well, Konjola did all that was claimed for it in my case," said Mr.
Herman Schlettert, 620 South Twentieth street, Quincy, Illinois. In addition to that, it greatly benefited my eight-year-old son. I suffered dreadfully from stomach trouble and constipation. Even though I watched my diet carefully, after every meal my stomach bloated terribly, causing distress and pain. My nerves were on edge, and as a result of constipation
I suffered with severe headaches.

"Nothing I tried did any good until I put this remarkable Konjola to the test. Before I had finished the first bottle I was satisfied that I had chosen the right medicine. Within a month I felt better in every way than for years. I started giving my son Konjola and he is gaining in weight and strength; is full of energy, and always hungry. Konjola has my most sincere indorsement."

Thus Konjola works, quickly yet thoroughly. One does not have to wait long for results when Konjola is given a chance, but for complete results, it is recommended that from six to eight bottles be taken.

Konjola is sold in Antioch, Illinois, at S. H. Reeves' drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

— What Members of Popular Organization Are Doing —

A trip to the Channel Lake Country club last Sunday was the pleasant experience of several of the members, experience of several of the members, the delightful spring-like weather luring many motorists out from the city. All traces of the recent snow storm, which had so buried the country and made the highways impassable, had completely disappeared, and with the thermometer up in the sixties, it was as though winter was a thing of the past and spring was well on its way. In spite of the recent bad weather, the links were found to be in playable condition, and among those who enjoyed a few rounds of golf were: Mr.

and Mrs. Ernest Heg, Mr. and Mrs.
Winslow Heg, Mr. Renz and son,
Billie, J. N. Tankersley, Mr. Keller,
R. E. Schmidt, and Mr. and Mrs. C.
W. Laflin and daughter, Frances.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Volk and sons,
John and Bill, spent all of last week in their summer home on Channel lake, it being school holiday time.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gifford were also week-end sojourners in their summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Hardcastle, who have been spending the winter months in California, are travelling home by motor bus, and will soon be back in their house on Channel lake.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sandell and Mrs.
Lillie Britton left Chicago last Saturday to motor to Cincinnati and Charleston, S. C.; they will return about the end of the week.

Famous Mt. Baldy Trophy won by Dynamic New ERSKINE

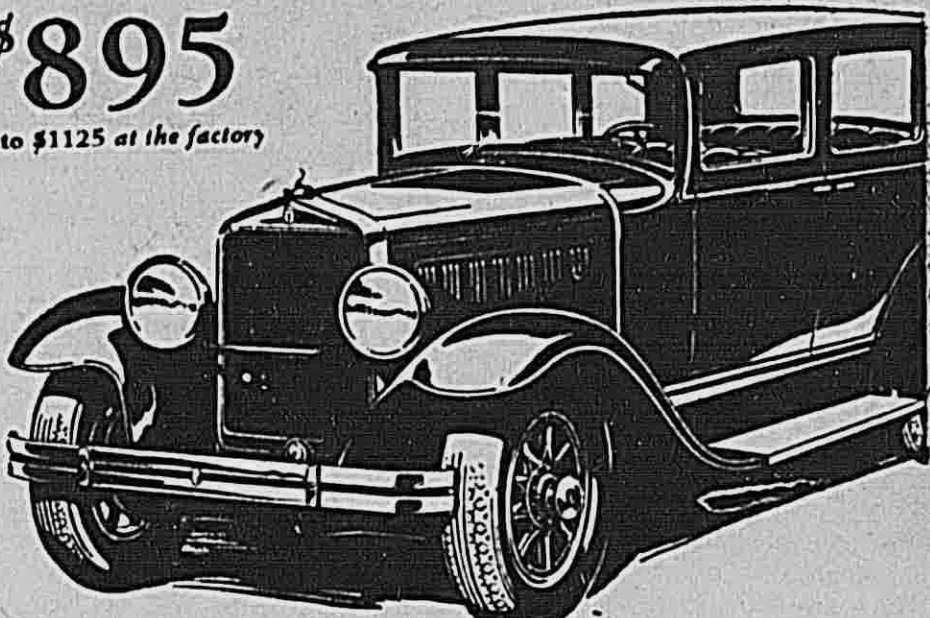

AT Pomona, Calif., on Feb. 25, an Erskine stock sedan, with optional gear ratio, certified by the American Automobile Association, set a new record up Mt. Baldy, making the winding 7.1 mile climb in 10 minutes, 44 seconds. 'It won the Progress-
Bulletin trophy for the fastest time ever made by a strictly stock car.

Feats such as the record-breaking Mt. Baldy climb are evidence of the Dynamic New Erskine's power and stamina.

You can command this champion performance at surprisingly low cost. A small down payment is all that is needed. Your present car, traded in, may make any initial cash outlay unnecessary.

WRESTLING MATCH WILL THRILL FANS AT PALACE FRIDAY

Five Elgin Battlers to Appear in the Boxing Bouts.

Something new awaits the approval of Antioch Palace fans tomorrow night. A heavyweight wrestling match between two unannounced grapplers is to be substituted for one of the seven regular boxing bouts on the card. This will be the first wrestling match ever put on at the Palace, and it is going to be a special feature, according to Promoter Dick Mack.

Elgin Scrappers Coming

Headlining the boxing card of six fast bouts will be John Hagner, "ace of Elgin," trading punches with Scotty Silvano, Tribune G. G. runner-up. This will be a windup that promises to furnish plenty of thrills.

Then in the semi-windup, Bill Butler, takes on Ernie Kratochvil, Racine.

Other Elgin maulers on the card are John Kerwin, Pete Aylwood and Earl Vermilyer, who are to meet with Billy Kreuger, Hack Miller and Howland Craft, respectively. The opening bout is between Mickey Whiting, McHenry, and Joe Kratochvil, Racine.

Scouts of County Are Planning Inter-Troop First Aid Contest

Boy Scout troops of Lake County are planning the first annual inter-troop first aid contest to be held at the Waukegan Township High school gymnasium on Thursday evening, April 17.

Each of the troops entered will have a team or patrol of five members and an alternate. Already Troop 5 of West School, Troop 16 of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, Troop 18 of St. Anastasia's Parish, all of Waukegan; Troop 42, Community Troop of Lake Bluff; and Troop 77, Community Troop of Gurnee, are entered. Entries close tomorrow evening, one week before the contest.

After tomorrow, when the total number of entries is determined, Scout Executive Warren Blodgett, and George Callahan, M. D., of Waukegan, the latter acting as head judge of the contest, will meet to select the other judges necessary to conduct the contest.

Encourages Better First Aid

The purpose of the inter-troop contest is to encourage more and better first aid. Certain training in first aid is required of all scouts of second class, first class, life, and Eagle scout rank, but the annual contest will serve to keep all scouts primed on their first aid in order that they may be always ready to do their "daily good turn" wherever first aid is needed.

Regional Contest in Chicago

The winning troop patrol or team of the Lake County Council of Boy Scouts will travel to Chicago on Friday evening, April 25, to compete against the winning teams from several Chicago Districts and from nine other Scout Councils in the vicinity of Chicago.

NOTICE

There will be a card party at the Danish hall, Monday, April 14, at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served and valuable prizes offered.

G.O.P. Choice for Senate

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick won the republican nomination for the U. S. Senate from this state by a margin of about 200,000 votes, defeating Sen. Charles S. Deneen in a furious campaign that was marked principally by the world court issue. Mrs. McCormick opposed the court, while Deneen upheld it.

MRS. RUBY RICHEY SELECTS ASSISTANTS FOR THE SUMMER

Secures Skilled Culinary Artists; Will Feed 1000 Daily

BEGINS WORK JUNE 14

Taking cognizance of the fact that training and experience make for efficiency, Mrs. Ruby Richey, of the local high school faculty, who has been appointed cafeteria manager of Illinois State Normal university for the summer sessions, recently spent a week-end on the campus interviewing applicants for positions on her staff and conferring with the acting president of that institution relative to the qualifications of those seeking employment in the cafeteria.

Selects Skilled Culinary Artists

Using scrutiny in her selections, Mrs. Richey has been fortunate in securing two full time workers who have been teaching home economics in Illinois high schools for the last three years and three who will take their degrees in that subject from the Illinois State Normal university this summer. Several others of this group are women of varied and extensive experience in cooking for large numbers, the teacher states. In addition to this corp of full time workers, Mrs. Richey has selected twelve part time workers, among whom are several university students who are interested in home economics education. The local instructor is of the opinion that the engagement of these expert assistants will make possible the preparation of the food in a scientific manner.

Will Accommodate 1000 Daily

It is estimated that one thousand students and faculty members will eat breakfast, dinner, and supper at the cafeteria daily. Mrs. Richey will have both administrative and executive duties in that she will plan the menus, buy the food, and direct her assistants.

To Begin Duties June 14

Beginning her duties on June 14, Mrs. Richey will be in charge of the cafeteria until the close of the second summer session, which will be on August 28. She has already corresponded with her staff members relative to what she expects of them.

G. O. P. WINNERS FOR GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Dick Lyons, who received nearly 40,000 votes for re-nomination for eighth district representative. Lyons, first in the race, received most of his support in Lake county, although he received much support in other units of the district.

Lee McDonough, who in the face of heavy opposition in his home town and county, was successful in his fight for re-nomination. Staunch friends who have faith in Lee as an able and honest legislator, came to his rescue, plumping three votes to save the former Lake county treasurer from defeat.

William M. Carroll, Woodstock attorney, landed second place in representative race. Carroll was given the legislative seat lost two years ago.

Capacity House Sees Uncle Sam's Visit

"MESSIAH" GIVEN BY HIGH SCHOOL

Best Choral Selections Ever Written, to Be Presented Monday

The music lovers of the Antioch community will have the privilege, next Monday, of hearing the greatest Oratorio that has ever been written. The Antioch High school chorus of 60 voices is to present at that time Handel's "Messiah". The string ensemble will assist.

For the last several years the high school has given several of the better operettas, but even the best are rather frivolous, and develop little interest in good music. They are popular because of the spectacle presented rather than for their music.

The Oratorio develops a sacred theme through the use of choruses, solos and orchestral numbers. The "Messiah" is the story of the foreshadowing, the coming, the suffering and the victory of Christ. The "Messiah" contains world renowned choruses, the second part closing with "The Hallelujah Chorus", the greatest choral number ever written.

The boys and girls have become greatly inspired during their work on this oratorio, and you also will be inspired. The members will be in full choral robes, and will present the numbers from memory.

APPRECIATION

Principal William C. Petty desires to express his thanks to voters of Lake county and the many loyal workers who assisted him in winning the Republican nomination for superintendent of schools.

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

Six-Cylinder Motor

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the whole chassis, the body, the passengers, and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

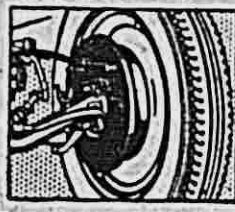

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain at any speed.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest high-acceleration carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve efficiency.

Fully Enclosed Brakes

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the new Chevrolet Six. This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine it or clean it.

The Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true motor car economy comes from advancement and refinement.

Like the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting springshockles maintain it.

Safety Gasoline Tank

With modern low suspension and extra wheelbase, the Chevrolet Six has excellent proportions.

Its impressive front view is distinguished by the genuine honeycomb radiator, another mark of modern cars.

The gasoline tank is in the rear, for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"—costly car style, with the permanent quiet of Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction.

Body by Fisher also gives you a genuine non-glare windshield, adjustable driver's seat, more space, deeper cushions, clearer vision, finer fabrics and fittings.

There is just as much extra value everywhere in the car. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the greatest value in the low-price field.

It is wise to choose the Chevrolet Six with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor... with full scientific equipment... with its Body by Fisher... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gasoline tank, honeycomb radiator and all the many other features of this day and age.

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive a Chevrolet Six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a remarkable difference six cylinders make.

WILMOT HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS TO PRESENT OPERETTA IN GYM

Winners in Declamatory And Oratorical Con- tests Named

The chorus of the high school will present the operetta, "The Ghost of Lollipop Bay" at the Wilmot gym Wednesday evening, April 16. The story of the operetta revolves about the schools of Prof. Flint for boys and Miss Steel's for girls, which are located on opposite sides of Lollipop Bay. The girls wanted to canoe ride with the boys, which was strictly against orders; however, after a series of events during which the ghost appears, Mr. Flint and Miss Steel decide to unite their schools. The music of the production is written by Charles Wakefield Cadman. Members of the Young Men's chorus from Kenosha are carrying the male parts. The operetta is under the direction of Miss Thieson and Prof. C. Nellson.

The winners of the semi-finals in the oratorical and declamatory contests at the high school are: Oratory—Adolph Fiegl, Lyle Neuman, Don Schmalfeldt, Dick DeBell, Peggy Shoten, Mariel Dean, Alice Gillmore, and Haze Madden. The finals will be held at the gym Friday night at 8 p. m. Winners in this contest will be awarded medals and will represent Wilmot High school in the League contest of League No. 1 in the Wisconsin association. The judges of the semi-finals were Grace Carey, Mrs. A. J. Kraemer, and Mrs. Gilbert Kerkoff. The Blue Ribbon 4-H club held its organization meeting at the Wilmot gym Tuesday night. Twenty-eight enthusiastic members signed up to conduct projects for the coming year. Officers elected were: President, Claudia Vincent, vice-presidents, Hazel Schold, Glenn Pacey, and Mabel Johnson; and secretary and treasurer, Mary Scholds. The goal of the club is 100% achievement, which means that each member will have to do his part.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shottliff were Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Lester and daughter, Virginia, of Spring Prairie, and Elbert Kennedy from Trevor.

Mr. and Mrs. Winn Peterson and family, from Kenosha, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reynolds.

John Memler was home from Bristol Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Foster announce the birth of a daughter on April 2.

Louis Beinneman and Dr. H. C. Darby were in Kenosha Saturday.

Kenneth Foster motored to Joliet Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McDougall entertained Saturday evening for the members of the 500 club. Awards went to Mrs. Leah Pacey, Charles Barber, Mrs. Walter Winn, Lynne Sherman, Mrs. Guy Loftus, and Roy Bufton. A midnight lunch was served.

Mrs. Alfred Reynolds entertained at a Vanishing Tea Wednesday afternoon.

The Wilmot P. T. A. association met at the gym Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Olga Hanneman and sons of Milwaukee spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Gauger. Gertrude Gauger was home from Powers Lake.

Mrs. J. Johnson and children spent Sunday at Bassetts with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rush.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Maron and daughter, Kenosha, were visitors Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Sutcliffe.

Mrs. Fred Faulkner, John Sutcliffe, Louis Hegeman, and Frank Burroughs attended a dinner given by Mrs. Roy Bufton at Silver Lake last Wednesday for members of the Royal Purple club.

Deane Loftus was home from the University of Wisconsin over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Volbrecht spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Harms at Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Powers and daughter, Bernice, and Mrs. Natalie Strupe, from Wauconda, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stoxen. The Five Hundred club is to give the last party of the season Saturday evening at the Kruckman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwain Dowell and daughter were out from Chicago for an over Sunday visit with Mr. and Mrs. George Dowell.

Mrs. H. Boulden and Mary Boulden entertained Mrs. Henrietta Boulden and Mr. and Mrs. C. Hoenighe and family, Milwaukee, on Saturday, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boulden and Lorraine of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. C. Sibley and Hazel Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dibble, and Percy Dibble, Antioch, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elbert and children motored to Woodstock Saturday evening.

The regular evening services at the M. E. church are held at 7:30 on Sunday evening. A special service is to be held on Tuesday evening, April 16th, at eight o'clock. Another special service, with communion, will be held at the Salem church Thursday evening, April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bufton were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Taylor, at Genoa City.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Frank and Mrs. Wm. Harm spent Sunday at Burlington with Mrs. John Grabow and daughter. In the afternoon all motored to Honey Lake.

The following children will be confirmed next Sunday at the Lutheran church: Charles Schultz, Alwin Pagel, Lyle Elbert, Lyle Neumann, Henry Pape, Evelyn Zarnstorff, Edith Zarnstorff, Corrine Lake, and Rhoda Frank. Services will begin at 9:30.

BRISTOL RESIDENTS ENTERTAIN IN HONOR OF GEORGE WILLETTS

Mrs. Margaret Maleski Gives Surprise Party For Mr. and Mrs. Cates

Mr. and Mrs. John Runge entertained a company of friends Saturday evening at a 6:30 o'clock dinner in honor of the 37th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Willett. It proved to be a complete surprise to the honored couple, who were presented with a beautiful basket of cut flowers. The guests were: Rev. and Mrs. C. A. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. Willett, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lavey, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gethen, and Mrs. Nellie Joslin.

Which Comes First... The Hen or the Egg?

What is the answer?

Does the hen get the credit for producing the egg—or the egg for producing the hen?

The question has troubled a lot of people for the last several hundred years.

While all this argument has been going on, however, the hens have continued to lay eggs and the eggs to hatch hens.

THEY HAVE ACCOMPLISHED SOMETHING.

And each is necessary to the other.

... Which brings us to the subject of community teamwork ...

ARE THE HEN-LAYING, EGG-HATCHING COMBINATIONS IN OUR COMMUNITY PRODUCING FOR OUR ADVANCEMENT?

A lack of teamwork has kept more communities from the progress they should make than any other single factor. Few towns rate more than half as well as they should because of lack of concerted community effort.

When the various business, social, educational and religious organizations function as separate, independent units, regardless of the splendid work of each, if they are not coordinated—"keyed in" with each other, they lose most of their effectiveness.

No one community ever may attain perfection. Schools can always be improved—Business can always be better; standards of living higher. Every factor in every community can always stand improvement.

It must be remembered that everything in our town depends on everything else. We are made up of many parts—each serving an individual purpose, but all closely related and inter-dependent. Strength of one is strength of all; weakness of one, weakness of all. Therefore every factor must be strong!

Where to begin to make stronger?

By discovering the spots most in need of reinforcement. Some factors are more vital to our community than others and require first attention. FIRST THINGS FIRST!

Futile argument as to which factor comes first dissipates the energy that should go into the teamwork.

Remember, it will never be decided which comes first—the hen or the egg—we only know that THE TEAMWORK OPERATION PRODUCES PROGRESS AND RESULTS!!

More teamwork and unification of effort will help each of us and strengthen

Russian Soviet Puts Ban on Time-Honored Kissing

Moscow's latest edict is "Thou shalt not kiss!" according to travelers recently returned from Russia, who relate that the Soviet chiefs, not content with abolishing church, crown, marriage—and other institutions beloved of man and woman—are now conducting a furious campaign against the kiss. The campaign will come as a shock to those who knew Russia in the good old days before the war, when friends, relations, comrades, and countrymen embraced each other whenever and wherever they met—sometimes as many as twenty times a day. A kiss approximated to a handshake or to a lifted hat then. "In no land," declared Alexandre Dumas pere in one of his travel books, "have I seen people embrace each other so much as in Russia." Now propaganda has invaded literature, and the latest novel from Moscow ends with this last page advice: "Eighteen-year-old heroine to her lover: 'A kiss? Young man, do you realize what a kiss means?'"

Speedy Toys in Europe

Children in Europe are demanding speed in their toys. Six-year-old Mario Contorio recently appeared on the streets of Paris on his motor-driven unicycle. Three-year-old Warner Kimpel, son of a famous German auto racer, has his own electric racing car, and Alfredo Bonifatti, aged four, drives through the streets of Rome on a tiny, but speedy, motor cycle.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Keep your eyes wide open before marriage, half shut afterwards.—Franklin.

Many of us would try oftener to cheer up the suffering if we only knew how.

STORY FROM THE START

Returning to America, during the War of 1812, after a successful voyage, Capt. Lion Fellowes' merchant ship Sachem is sunk on Portugal by a British frigate. He reaches shore exhausted. His life is saved by an English speaking girl who conceals her identity. He learns from her, however, that she is about to set out for the American ship True Bounty, bound. He meets Capt. Chater, of the American ship True Bounty, an acquaintance. Chater offers him a berth as mate. Fellowes refuses, knowing Chater is disloyal in trading with the enemy. He meets the girl who saved his life, Cara Inglepin, daughter of the owner of the True Bounty. Cara induces him to sail as mate.

CHAPTER III—Continued

Everyone but the duenna hastened on deck to watch the Badger come foaming down from windward. "Oh, brave," cried Cara Inglepin clapping her hands delightedly. She received Fellowes' eager greeting with a hint of embarrassment—almost as if she regretted last night's kiss, he thought—and continued quickly:

"We are fortunate 'tis the Badger. Sometimes the blockading captains are very severe. But Captain Collishawe is a gentleman, and my father's friend."

"'Rimply!' Collishawe! Yes, many Americans have called him friend!" "Why, Lion?" There was asperity in her tone. "'Tis vulgar, I vow! You must not speak so. You'll ill commend yourself to Captain Collishawe."

"I have no concern with Captain Collishawe," he returned, and walked away, heedless of her protest.

The Badger rounded to under the True Bounty's quarter. Collishawe hung in the starboard mizen-rigging, a tall, lean man, of about Fellowes' age, handsomely uniformed, his half-boots polished, his blue coat fitting trimly. His manner was haughty as he hailed:

"Ahoy! What ship's that?" "True Bounty, Cap'n Chater, from Lisbon for New York, with wine and lemons," answered Chater.

"I'll send a boat aboard you," snapped Collishawe. "Have your papers ready."

He turned to give some order, and Miss Inglepin ran to the True Bounty's side, waving her mantle. "Oh, James," she cried, "Haven't you a word for me? 'Tis unmanly, sir."

He swung around. The sternness melted from his features. "Cara! What rare good fortune! I'll come aboard, myself."

The Badger's boat swung overside and rowed smartly across the cap of choppy water separating the vessels. Collishawe leaped from its gunwale to the rope-ladder Chater had ordered rigged for him, ascending its rungs as lightly as a monkey and vaulted to the merchantman's deck with hands outstretched to Cara. Their voices friendly, excited, clamoring together, exasperated Fellowes unreasonably. He tried not to listen to them, but he couldn't very well help himself.

"—dispatches on the eve of our sailing," she was saying. "Twas reported the Grand army evacuated Moscow in October, and was torn to pieces in the retreat. Napoleon, himself, barely escaped."

"Great news," applauded Collishawe. "And the Peninsula?" "Lord Wellington carries all before him. Soult is on the defensive. Your people are certain they will drive him over the Pyrenees before autumn."

"Excellent! An uphill struggle, by gad, but the French are also finished. With the Russians on their backs—"

"But have you news for us?" she interrupted eagerly. "Have you heard of my father?"

He laughed on a keen, boyish note that Fellowes found ingratiating.

"We hear from our friends. Your father does well, but is roundly abused. Your uncle diverts himself fitting out privateers against us." His face clouded. "The Yankees have tricked us once more with those rascals of theirs. Our Java struck to the Constitution in a fight off the Brazils. 'Tis said the Constitution refused to close, and hammered the Java with her long guns. I hold we are but discovering captains grown soft from fighting the French."

Chater frowned assent; but Cara Inglepin replied spiritedly:

"No, James, you are wrong, and you do your own country no honor thereby, since we Americans are but Englishmen transplanted to another land and toying with another government."

He laughed once more at that.

"Toying with another government. You have a trick of language, Cara. 'Tis so. They are for re-electing this idiot President of theirs, while those of your father's opinion labor to supply our wants—and remedy the ills that run at home. But their eyes will be opened anon. Admiral Cockburn has proclaimed a blockade of their whole coast, and with Napoleon tottering we shall soon have sufficient troops in Canada to brush aside their militia levies, sweep down the Hudson and take New York."

"Aye, aye, Cap'n Collishawe, that's how it shall be," Chater cried fervently. "And if ye'll suffer me to attend ye to the cabin, we'll tell ye summat of interest along that line."

Cara seconded the invitation. "Yes, yes, James, do let me give you a lish of ten. We've so much to discuss. I had vast success in Lisbon. There were friends bade me fetch messages to you, and my father will wish to know how the Admiral esteems our purposes. So come below, James, and meanwhile Captain Chater shall give orders to break out a barrel of port for you—yes, Captain Chater, and a tierce of lemons to ward against the scurvy."

Collishawe bowed his appreciation. "Always thoughtful, Cara! Ah, I'll be grateful when this cursed war is ended, and I may call on you again in Broadway, and smoke my pipe in the garden under the tulip trees."

Her answering smile, as he ushered her into the cabin, was a dagger of jealousy in Fellowes' heart. It glared silently, the Long Islander didn't hear Chater's hail until it had been repeated.

"Fellowes! Ahoy, Mr. Fellowes! Ye heard Miss Cara's orders? Well, see to 'em. The port ye can take from the cabin stores—I'll send the key."

For the next quarter hour Fellowes was busy, slinging the keg of port overside, and breaking out the lemons from beneath the forward hatch. When the task had been concluded he walked aft, entering the cabin companionway without knocking, as was his custom. At the end of the passage was the main cabin, a spacious apartment, with a long table thwartwise of the ship, about which sat Miss Inglepin. Collishawe and Chater, their heads bent over a small heap of papers. Fellowes could distinguish several documents which bore official seals.

"The Admiral should be off the Delaware capes," Collishawe was saying. "But we'll pass on the word to him."

"We must have time to consult our New England friends," interposed Miss Inglepin.

"Aye, 'tis no matter to be hasted," agreed Chater. And raising his head, perceived Fellowes in the companionway. "Well, now, what will it be, Mr. Fellowes?"

"The cabin stores key."

"Oh!" Chater cracked his finger knuckles abstractedly, peering from his mate to the Badger's captain. "Well, just hang it on the hook there. That'll be all, Mr. Fellowes."

Miss Inglepin looked away as Fellowes strode across the narrow floor, but Collishawe eyed him alertly.

"I've seen you in New York, haven't I?" Collishawe asked Fellowes, who replied, with a shrug:

"Very likely, Captain. I remember having seen you."

"Ah! Be so good as to shut the companionway door after you."

Fellowes tramped out. What were they up to in the cabin? He recalled Cara's conversation with Wellington. Was the True Bounty a medium for conveying intelligence of treasonable plots to the enemy?

Against the evidence accusatory he balanced his conviction of Cara's essential honesty, and not least, her fervid piety the night before. And he mustn't let jealousy of another man dye his opinions, he realized.

Perhaps half an hour passed, when the cabin door banged open, and Collishawe stepped out. Chater at his heels.

"Very good, Captain," the Englishman said in response to a remark Fellowes missed. "Please tell Miss Cara I'm sorry she was obliged to leave us. And I shall have to ask you to muster your crew. Very strict orders, y'know. Admiral instructs me to seize every British subject in enemy vessels."

"Well, now, sir, just ye cast your eye over the men," whinnied Chater. "Good, honest Federalists, every man jack of 'em. New Englanders, except a couple of Irish out of Long Island."

"What about your officers?" Collishawe spun on his heel, and looked straight at Fellowes. "Yes, sir! I told you in the cabin I had seen you before. Your name is Fellowes, ain't it?"

"Yes, Captain," Fellowes answered quietly.

"Born in London, weren't you?"

"My father was—"

"Born in London?"

"My parents were in London because—"

"Went to Eton, eh?"

"Yes, but I don't see—"

Collishawe strode over to the gangway.

"A couple of you men up here," he called down to his boat's crew. And then, over his shoulder to Chater: "I'll have to press this man. British-born, and not of the type we can encourage in disloyalty."

"But I am an American citizen," Fellowes protested. "My father was consul—"

Collishawe ignored him.

"Bundle this fellow overside," he directed the two bluejackets who had swarmed the gangway.

The bluejackets had seized Fellowes by either arm, and he tried to wrench out of their grip.

"Captain," he appealed to Chater, "you'll never submit to this! It's barefaced kidnapping!"

Chater cracked his knuckles loudly, his eye twinkling heily the mournful drop assumed by his out-crafter features.

"Don't, for marcy's sake, go and fight, Fellowes," he begged. "T'won't do ye no good." He addressed Collishawe directly: "I calculate ye kind of understand, Captain. I've known Fellowes for years. His father was in London—"

"Immaterial to me what fetched his father to London," snapped Collishawe. "He's British-born. Get on with him, men."

Fellowes began to struggle, but the two husky bluejackets plinked his hands behind his back. One of them snatched a loose coil of rope from the deck, and slipped a loop around his waist.

"Over with ye, me 'erly," he said cheerfully, and gave Fellowes a shove.

The Long Islander tumbled out the gangway, and skillfully checked by his captors above, was lowered like a meal sack into the waiting quarter-boat, heaving on the swell under the True Bounty's lee.

A little stunned by his bumping descent Fellowes lay where he had fallen while Collishawe dropped alimbly into the sternsheets. The True Bounty had way on her, and was already sliding through the water; but Fellowes had a brief glimpse of the duenna's face, very white and worn. That is, he thought it was the duenna he saw, for the first time since putting out over Tagus bar, but he decided he must have lost his senses. For the face at the port said distinctly, with a thick tongue:

"Arrah, holy saints, they've stole the poor lad clane away!"

Fellowes was dumfounded, dazed by the suddenness of the injustice which had overtaken him. A whip was lowered from the yardarm of the Badger, and he was slung through the air as casually as so much merchandise. Collishawe, who followed him by way of the Jacob's ladder, was equally casual in manner.

"Slack off this man's bonds, Mr. Curry—" to an officer, who held a spyglass under his arm—"have that quarter-boat hauled aboard, and make sail for our station. Bosun! Clinch! Where's 'Inch'?"

"Aye, aye, sir!" A stalwart, battered sailor, with a jagged scar across one cheek, rolled up, tugging at his forelock.

"Have this man mustered in—able seaman—draw clothing for him."

But Fellowes turned desperately to Collishawe.

"Look here, Captain," he exclaimed, "you've made a mistake. I'm not a British subject—"

"Born in London, weren't you?"

"Yes, but my father and mother both were American citizens. My father was our consul."

"Humph! Don't think that lets you off, however—Humph! Got your press protection?"

"Press protection?" Fellowes repeated thickly. "No! Why should I carry one? I'm an American citizen, I tell you—and no common sailor, into the bargain. I hold master's papers."

Collishawe eyed him coldly.

Mangian Love Letters Inscribed on Bamboo

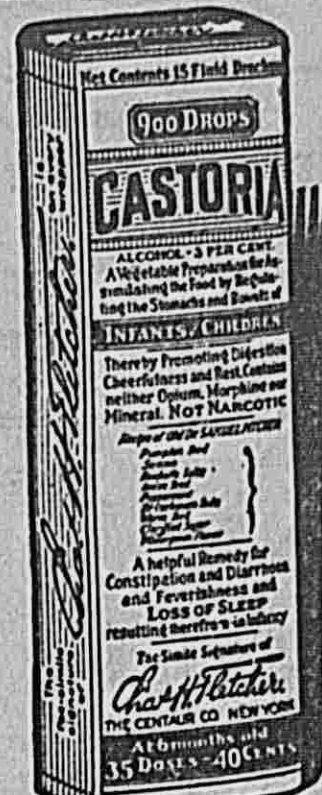

Perhaps the queerest type of love letter known in the world is that in vogue among the Mangians of the hill lands and mountains of Mindoro, P. I., who still hold to the ancient alphabet of about three vowels and ten consonants which they group into words inscribed on bamboo in a single vertical column. They are an extremely as a stylus. They are an extremely simple and timid people and their more aggressive Malay neighbors have made them hunt cover in the highlands and the primeval forests. For business, aside from the very important business of making love, they hardly need writing at all; and surely no bamboo ledgers to record their wealth. But love makes as ardent demands upon them as upon other folk, and their swains fallen victim to Cupid whip out their holos, slash down a good-sized bamboo, and go to weaving with intense gusto. So that a love missive may be strung along the length of a 45-foot pole, and the one end trailing in the forest path as the poet indites a warm postscript on the other. Popular daisies soon have enough finely etched poles to build a hut—to burn such telltale documents would be to light a fire endangering the forest. Specimens of the love letter poles have been acquired by scientists and translated, and the astounding truth discovered that a Mangian in love is an inordinately liar!

Curious Reflection

"Have you seen the Museum ghost?" asked my friend, an Egyptologist, when with him in the Egyptian gallery of the British museum. We had just passed the empty black basalt coffin of a priest of Ptah, but on looking through the glass case that contained a statuette of Isis, he pointed out that the previously empty coffin now held a mysterious figure! My companion's explanation of this somewhat disturbing apparition was that the reflection of an effigy in a coffin on the other side of Isis' case was caught by one glass of the case and thrown by the other glass right into the vacant coffin of Ptah's priest! The illusion is certainly remarkable.—London Mail.

The upsets of Children

All children are subject to little upsets. They come at unexpected times. They seem twice as serious in the dead of night. But there's one form of comfort on which a mother can always rely; good old Castoria. This pure vegetable preparation can't harm the tiniest infant. Yet mild as it is, it soothes a restless, fretful baby like nothing else. Its quick relief soon sees the youngster comfortable once more, back to sleep. Even an attack of colic, or diarrhea, yields to the soothing influence of Castoria. Keep Castoria in mind, and keep a bottle in the house—always. Give a few drops to any child whose tongue is coated, or whose breath is bad. Continue with Castoria until the child is grown! Every drugstore has Castoria; the genuine has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Shampoo the CUTICURA way

What a delightful and healthful shampoo it gives! Anoint the scalp lightly with CUTICURA OINTMENT; then make a strong lather with CUTICURA SOAP by dissolving shavings of the SOAP in hot water. Wet the hair thoroughly, then shampoo with the suds and rinse, several times, finishing with tepid or cold water. This will keep your scalp in a healthy condition, and your hair will be soft and lustrous.

Three Mothers Agree

When mother is tired, nervous or ill the whole home is upset. For her family's sake, every mother wants to be well and strong. These three women tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps them to care for their families.

Mrs. H. Dolhonde,
6318 York St.,
New Orleans, Louisiana

"Before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."

Mrs. Harold Goodnow
36 Cane St.,
Fitchburg, Massachusetts

"I cannot praise your medicine enough. After my baby came I was rundown. I had to go to bed often through the day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I felt like a different woman. If any mother has those tired feelings I advise her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Lloyd R. Blasing,
115 So. Ohio St.,
Anaheim, California

"After my baby came I was so nervous and tired that I felt miserable. One day a booklet was left at our door and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now on my fourth bottle and I feel much stronger. It has helped me in every way and I feel sure that other women in rundown condition will pick up if they will only take a few bottles."

HOW TO LIVE LONGER

By JOHN CLARENCE FUNK
A. M., Sc. D.

Director of Public Health Education,
State of Pennsylvania.

Handle With Care

AUTOMOBILING has been defined as the greatest sport on earth. And there seems to be a large amount of evidence to sustain that point. On the other hand, like everything else, there are two sides to the question. For example, in the United States within the last twelve months there have been more than thirty thousand deaths which were directly attributed to the motor car. Not to mention the many times that number of accidents which did not result fatally. It should, therefore, be quite plain that gasoline can do much damage as well as create much pleasure.

With the use of the automobile practically universal, and tourist travel growing by leaps and bounds, it is logical to warn the man at the wheel. It is only natural that by rolling along on a fine highway the operator will develop a keen enthusiasm. But the rest and fascination associated with this sort of thing can very quickly dull one's judgment, which unfortunately frequently occurs. When this happens, selfishness and recklessness step in—and many drivers and passengers step out!

It cannot be gainsaid that so to operate a car as to make a hospital case or worse of one's self or friends is the height of folly. Yet by "beating" trains and in turn by being beaten by them, by failing to keep a firm grasp on the steering wheel at all times, by disregarding caution signs and lights, and by permitting impatience to keep the car in high when caution demands less speed, many thousands of automobilists will conclude their ride by adorning a hospital bed or by making business for the cemetery people.

It seems a shame that with streets and highways admirably marked to aid in careful operation, with water supplies in many jurisdictions designated safe by health officials, with adequate supervision of wayside stands and camping grounds and, daily, with all the health and pleasure which may be derived from the wide open spaces, so many drivers will put an untimely end to themselves and others by careless driving.

Remember, that all the personal health in the world coupled with a life expectancy of many happy years will be of no avail whatever if caution on the road is thoughtlessly tossed away. Therefore, at all times handle that automobile of yours with care. And live to drive another day!

Forcing the Issue

NO ONE wants to grow old. But no one can prevent it. Man is born, lives and dies—a sequence which the wisest can in no way avoid. Any worrying will not help matters in the least. Intelligent living, on the other hand, is of great value in postponing the inevitable old age condition.

One has but to look around to realize that young men and women, as well as older ones, are foolishly engaged in habits that tend to shorten life. The consequence is that many a person who has actually only existed fifty or sixty years is an septuagenarian from a physiological standpoint. Where is the sense to that?

Continual worry, lack of the proper amount of rest, over-playing or overworking, failing to exercise, excesses of all kinds, and in general, forgetting that the body as well as business requires intelligent direction, are the factors that prematurely hasten old age.

It is an established and scientific fact that careful living, barring accidents, will defer old age. Therefore, so conduct your life that when you look old you actually are that way. Why force the issue?

Revelation Put Beau

in Unfavorable Light

Butler Glaenzler, critic and poet, was talking about a biography of George Washington that does not flatter the Father of his Country.

"Few men's lives at that," he said, "can stand the searchlight as well as Washington's stands it. A girl turned the searchlight on her beau once, and if the poor fellow came out badly in one way—well, we'd all come out badly in another."

"This poor fellow I'm speaking of gave his girl an umbrella on her birthday. She didn't like the umbrella any too well, and since the ticket of the department store where it had been bought was tied to the handle, she decided to exchange it without saying anything to anybody beforehand."

"So she trotted to the department store, went to the exchange man and said: 'I'd like to exchange this umbrella, please, for another at the same price.' 'With pleasure, madam,' said the man. He was all smiles and bows. But after he'd unwrapped the umbrella he looked very stern. 'This umbrella,' he said, 'wasn't bought from us, madam.' 'Oh, yes, it was,' said the girl. 'Look, there's your ticket on it.' 'Ah, yes,' said the man, 'that's our ticket—our ticket for re-covering.'"—Detroit Free Press.

ONLY A DOCTOR KNOWS WHAT A LAXATIVE SHOULD BE

Danger lies in careless selection of laxatives! By taking the first thing that comes to mind when bad breath, headaches, dizziness, nausea, biliousness, gas on stomach and bowels, lack of appetite or energy warns of constipation, you risk forming the laxative habit.

Depend on a doctor's judgment in choosing your laxative. Here's one made from the prescription of a specialist in bowel and stomach disorders. Its originator tried it in thousands of cases; found it safe for women, children and old folks; thoroughly effective for the most robust man. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. It is composed of fresh herbs and other pure ingredients. You can get it, in generous bottles and ready for use, at any drugstore.

Finding the Hit-Skipper

By ARTHUR A. PETERSON

(Copyright.)

STARD, whose mind at the moment was focused on the very grave matter of the Stendahl financing, dimly sensed a rift in the driving torrent of the boulevard traffic, and went over the curb without another thought. It was a stout arm sleeved in blue that snatched him from the path of flight of the waspish yellow roadster with the maroon license plates.

The arm and the big, square hand at the end of it busied themselves with pencil and notebook. Stard, horribly white and shaken, watched the entry take form. It was a name, his own, and a number—that, Stard understood, on the maroon license plates.

"A narrow squeak, Mr. Stard," The patrolman snapped the notebook shut and thrust it into his blouse. "My name is Zamm, in case you want to press a charge of reckless driving."

The faint color that had crept back into Stard's face drained again.

"Your name is Zamm? Not Patrolman Zamm of U Precinct?"

Zamm grinned.

"The same, sir. I guess maybe I gave you a start, knowing that, Mr. Stard. Us Zamm's was never fixed so we could run next door and borrow a cup of sugar from a Stard."

"Nor have the Stards enjoyed the privilege of knowing the Zamm's until now," Stard smiled. He had regained his self-control.

"I knew you from your picture in the Trib when you headed up the campaign for the crippled Chicago kids," said Zamm. He did not see the spasm that threatened the firm line of Stard's lips. "That was a great job, that crippled kids drive." Zamm said impulsively. His face clouded.

"You see," he explained, "I got one myself. Eight years old. Some of the medics say she's twisted for life. A hit-skipper did it. A yellow bird like the guy that near to finished you. So I know," he finished more gently, "how big a job that crippled kids drive was. I'm glad I had the chance to do this, Mr. Stard."

"My part was small, in all conscience," Stard said. "Zamm, I want to do something for you."

"There ain't nothing more you can do for me," Zamm said firmly. "You done it already when you fixed those crippled kids."

"Wait," said Stard. "A moment ago you said that 'some' doctors had passed your little girl's case as hopeless. Am I free to take it there is still an unexplored chance that another surgeon might take a more cheerful view?"

"Cordova at San Francisco," Zamm said wistfully. "Cordova's a wonder with spine cases. I know he could do something. Sometimes I just about go nuts trying to figure ways to get to Cordova with the kid. But I couldn't never in this world afford it."

"Then my gratitude shall be Cordova and greater men than Cordova in Europe if Cordova fails," Stard said simply. His sombre eyes were looking far beyond the incredulous Zamm.

"You don't mean—"

"I mean that I am buying this chance for your little girl. The rest of the debt I cannot hope to discharge."

"God bless you, sir," Stard looked away.

"The girl—how long ago was she hurt?" he said.

"Fourth of March it was, sir. Day Hoover went in. There was a story in the Trib about it. Maybe you saw it. How she was carrying her doll across the street to listen to the radio on the Washington dolings? Funny thing, that. Afterwards—the strong face twisted—"afterwards we found the doll. This guy knocked it guiley west into a snow drift out of her arms. See, and there wasn't a scratch on it. But the wig was gone. A natural hair wig, it was. We never found it. It got caught on a bumper or something. I guess."

"The driver failed to stop?"

"Say, that yellow breed never stops!"

"And no one ever saw him?"

"Now, he tore out of our street like Barney Oldfield with De Palma behind."

Stard offered his hand.

"You'll let me know how the girl comes out?"

"Let you know?" Zamm shook the sudden tears from his brimming eyes. "I'll write a book, sir, about what's in my heart."

Stard was standing at the fireplace with thin hands knotted behind his back when one of the clerks, his face strained with fear, burst into the office.

"Are you all right, sir?"

"What do you fear?" Stard said without turning. His foot drew back from a smear of powdery ashes on the cold hearth.

"We thought we smelled something burning, sir." The clerk hesitated. "Like—sort of like burning hair."

Stard laughed softly.

"Hair? But why should I be burning hair, Trayne?"

"We were just a little worried," the clerk mumbled.

Bride Tells Her Secret

"FOR a young bride of twenty-one to lose her vitality and pep is disastrous, almost a sacrifice," says Mrs. George E. Pillow, of Franklin, Va. "That, however," she continues, "is just what I did."

"I had only been married a few months to an athletic husband, who went everywhere and did everything. I tried to keep up with his pace, and simply collapsed under the strain. I never was really ill; just sallow-skinned, depressed, and lifeless. Swimming, dancing, golf, I just couldn't face them. When I began to lose my clear complexion, I was desperate."

"Then one day a girl friend came to pay me a visit. In the bottom of her little bag of clothes lay a crystal-clear bottle—Nujol! A short woman-to-woman talk—a telephone call to a neighboring drug store—and my future happiness was settled."

"That was a year ago. Now I too am never without Nujol, which has brightened and cleansed my body like a cake of pure soap. I eat, sleep, swim, and hike with the enthusiasm of a child. My complexion is all it used to be—and best of all—I am my husband's little pal again."

The wonderful thing about crystal-clear Nujol is that it is not a medicine; it contains no drugs—it cannot hurt even a baby. It is simply the normal internal lubrication which your body needs. Let Nujol clear the poisons out of your body (we all have them), and flood the sunshine of happiness into your life.

It sounds like a fairy tale, but millions of people have proved it. So can you. Get Nujol at any drug store—sold only in sealed packages, with the Nujol trademark. It costs but a few cents and it will make you feel like a million dollars!
